FY 2015-2016

The Full Frame Documentary Film Festival is an annual international event dedicated to the theatrical exhibition of non-fiction cinema. Each spring Full Frame welcomes filmmakers and film lovers from around the world to historic downtown Durham, North Carolina for a four-day, morning to midnight array of films as well as discussions, panels, and southern hospitality. Set within a four-block radius, the intimate festival landscape fosters community and conversation between filmmakers, film professionals and the public.

Full Frame serves the documentary form and its community by showcasing the contemporary work of established and emerging filmmakers. The festival provides a space that nurtures conversation between artists, students, and the Full Frame audience. Full Frame is committed to enhancing public understanding and appreciation of the art form and its significance, while making films more accessible to a wider audience.

Full Frame elements include:

1. Full Frame will offer opportunity for documentary filmmakers to showcase their work theatrically. Full Frame will offer a unique assortment of film screenings, both curated and submitted, for competition, panel discussions, seminars, and Q&A sessions.
2. Full Frame will continue to provide enhanced year-round programming, including educational outreach programs and free screenings in various Durham locations. The festival has shown 19 free screenings in Durham and the surrounding areas to thousands of citizens at no charge this year.
3. Full Frame will present over 100 films for the 19th annual Full Frame Documentary Film Festival, April 7-10, 2016.
